Vantaca[®] Q for Community Managers

Vantaca IQ provides community managers with the tools to demonstrate their value to association boards, manage tasks efficiently, and balance workloads across multiple associations.

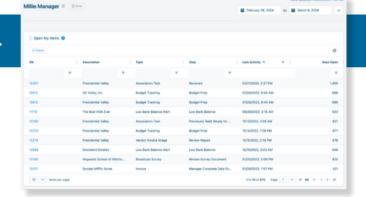

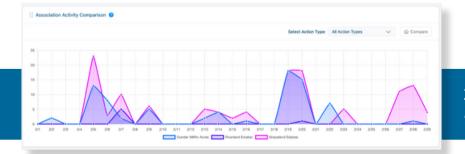

1. Prove value to your boards.

Demonstrate your team's accomplishments to boards by showcasing the comprehensive scope of work completed at your upcoming board meeting! Be transparent about the progress you've made, what you are working on, and what is still outstanding.

2. Stay up-to-date on your outstanding tasks.

Address unread messages and open items for yourself and the open items for each association you manage in a timely manner. Sort tasks by association or how long they've been open to improve your response times to homeowners. Employees using Vantaca IQ see on average a 5% reduction in open action items.

3. Track your workload from each association you manage

Compare the activities you perform across your portfolio of associations. This helps you identify any communities that may need more of your attention or any communities that have an elevated number of issues to resolve.
